Standard moisture in raw soybeans and with toasted soybeans is 13%. But it is possible to reduce the moisture content to 11%, however, in this case the price is higher.

It is important to note that the process of thermal treatment of crude soybean is carried in a stream of superheated air at 130 degrees centigrade, and then another 10 minutes to cook in the overheated steam.

Regarding salmonella, it disappears if the raw material (soybean) is exposed under temperature at 60 degrees °C for 45 minutes or 2 minutes at temperature of 70 degrees °C.

Since the heat treatment process takes place at a temperature of 130 degrees °C, there is no risk of salmonella presence.

As for ureasic value - during the thermal treatment (toasting) its value is reduced by 0.3 to about 0.5 mg N / g / min

Organic toasted soybeans or crude soybeans can be provided from October each year onwards.
